

ONE

Another greeting card comes through...
They're all the same, there's nothing new.

I start to read the text within,
Its deeper meaning draws me in.

With every word pronounced, I'm feeling
Vibrations resonate through my being.

They are reminding me of how life really works –
All things are manifested by my strongest thoughts...

I focus on the feeling of experience I envision,
And sense for matching energy to guide my next decision.

I act on what feels true to me and have a sense of knowing,
All circumstances that support me are already flowing.

I am awake and see perfection in the timing of events unfolding,
They form an invitation to align and to let go of old beliefs I'm holding.

I step away from limiting ideas of lack, unworthiness, and separation,
To feel true joy and freedom, without fears, abundantly supported by Creation.

I trust that what is relevant is naturally revealed to me
With elegant and easy flow, the way life is designed to be.

The world is like a mirror, with a delayed reflection,
I am the source of power that lights up the projection.

Awareness of my current state of being – is the key,
The energy I radiate is then reflected back to me.

Right now,
What state do I prefer to have?

I choose to feel Sublime,

Empowered, and...

in Love.